I. Introduction

The Suicide Prevention Coordinating Council (SPCC) consists of 27 community members whose mission is to develop effective strategies for suicide prevention in Florida. To accomplish this mission, the SPCC advises the Statewide Office for Suicide Prevention (SOSP) on the development of the Florida Suicide Prevention Plan (Plan) and assists with making findings and recommendations regarding statewide suicide prevention programs.

The SOSP is administratively housed in the Department of Children and Families' (DCF) Office of Substance Abuse and Mental Health (SAMH). One of its responsibilities is to prepare this annual Report pursuant to section 14.20195(c), F.S., and present it to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Report provides an overview of 2015 national suicide statistics, 2016 state suicide statistics, and activities conducted and planned in 2017 that supported the strategic direction and goals in the Plan. These goals are to:

1. Integrate and coordinate suicide prevention activities across multiple sectors and settings.
2. Increase public knowledge of the factors that offer protection from suicidal behaviors and promote wellness and recovery.
3. Implement and monitor effective evidence-based programs to promote wellness and prevent suicide-related behaviors.
4. Provide training on the prevention of suicide and related behaviors to community and clinical service providers.
5. Promote suicide prevention as a core component of health care services.
6. Promote and implement effective clinical and professional practices for assessing and treating those identified as being at-risk for suicidal behaviors.
7. Increase the usefulness of national and state level surveillance data to inform suicide prevention efforts.

This Report also addresses new recommendations put forth by the SPCC to decrease deaths by suicide and enhance suicide prevention efforts, which focus on:

- Expansion of the SOSP;
- Support of the Department of Health's participation in the National Violent Death Reporting System; and
- On-site school suicide prevention trainings.

Suicide prevention events planned throughout Florida can be accessed by the public on the SOSP website calendar.

II. An Overview of Suicide

Suicide is a major public health issue and a leading cause of death nationally, with complex causes such as mental health and substance use disorders, painful losses, exposure to violence, and social isolation.¹ Suicide is a tragic, but preventable event, that has a devastating impact on families and communities. In 2016, 3,122 lives were lost to suicide in Florida.

To better understand this complex public health problem, the SOSOP and the SPCC review national and state level suicide data. The information presented in this section provides the most recent suicide data available.

II.A. National Data

National suicide data for 2015, which is the most recent data available from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, is summarized below:

- The total number of deaths in the U.S due to suicide was 44,193.²
- Suicide was the tenth leading cause of death in the U.S.³
- The suicide rate per 100,000 population was 13.3.⁴

Table 1 shows the 2015 national suicide deaths per age group. Notably, suicide was the second leading cause of death for individuals within the 15-34 age group, the third leading cause of death for individuals within the 10-14 age group, and the fourth leading cause of death for individuals within the 35-44 age group.

Table 1: National Suicide Deaths in 2015

| Age Group | Suicide Deaths | Cause of Death Ranking |

II.B. Florida Data

Data related to suicide in Florida for 2016, as reported in the Florida Vital Statistics Annual Report (2016),⁶ is summarized below:

- The total number of deaths due to suicide was 3,122, which is a slight decrease from 3,152 in 2015.
- Suicide was the eleventh leading cause of death in Florida.
- The suicide rate per 100,000 population was 15.4. This is a decrease from 2015 (15.9), and higher than the 2015 national rate.

Table 2 shows the numbers of Florida suicide deaths per age group. Suicide was the second leading cause of death for individuals within the 25-34 age group in 2016, similar to the national ranking of 2015, and the third leading cause of death for individuals within the 10-24 age group.

III. Florida Suicide Prevention Plan

In 2001, the U.S. Surgeon General issued the National Strategy for Suicide Prevention (National Strategy) to launch an organized effort to prevent suicide across the nation. Updated in 2012, the National Strategy represented a new approach to enlisting all Americans in the effort to prevent suicide. Florida’s Plan is a joint effort of the SPCC and SOSOP. Section 14.20195(a), F.S., requires the SPCC to advise the SOSOP “regarding the development of a statewide plan for suicide prevention, with the guiding principle being that suicide is a preventable problem.”

The purpose of the Plan is to guide statewide efforts to decrease suicide-related deaths through a framework of goals and objectives that coordinate suicide prevention activities at the state and local community levels. The Plan can be viewed on the department’s SOSOP website.

Table 3 outlines the Plan’s strategic directions, goals, and objectives. The four strategic directions align with the National Strategy, which are:

- Healthy and Empowered Individuals, Families, and Communities;
- Clinical and Community Preventive Services;
- Treatment and Support Services; and
- Surveillance, Research, and Evaluation.

IV. Florida Initiatives and Actions

The SOSP is committed to promoting suicide prevention efforts by increasing public awareness of the risk factors and warning signs of suicide. This year, the SOSP furthered these efforts by providing training at various conferences and events; conducting technical assistance; facilitating the SPCC quarterly council meetings; and preparing and publishing this Report.

Additionally, the SOSP, along with other interested stakeholders, participated in the federal Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration’s Service Members, Veterans, and their Families (SMVF) Technical Assistance Center’s “Advancing Suicide Prevention Best Practices in SMVF Peer Support” Virtual Implementation Academy. Results from this collaboration include the creation of two workgroups and an implementation plan to increase suicide prevention awareness for service members, veterans, and their families.

To implement the Plan’s strategic goals and objectives, the SPCC and SOSP depend on many state and community partners. Strategic planning and suicide prevention efforts would not be effective without the activities provided in local communities around the state. Table 4 summarizes these suicide prevention initiatives and activities, as reported by members of the SPCC, Managing Entities, and other stakeholders. This summary includes the suicide prevention activities that occurred between January-October 2017, as reported to the SOSP. Activities are categorized by the type of entities that accomplish them, including:

- State, tribal, and local governments;
- Schools, colleges, and universities;
- Nonprofit, community, and faith-based organizations;
- Health systems, insurers, and clinicians; and
- Individuals and families.

VI. Grants

Information on six major federal grants currently being implemented in Florida to assist with suicide prevention efforts is below.

VI.A. Florida Implementation of the National Strategy for Suicide Prevention (FINS) Project

The FINS Project is a partnership of the SOSOP, the University of Central Florida (UCF), the University of South Florida (USF), and Florida Hospital. Using a mentorship model, FINS will adopt and integrate the National Strategy for Suicide Prevention to ensure that health and behavioral health settings and adult-serving systems are adequately prepared to identify, engage, and treat at-risk adults with culturally competent evidence-based/best-practice (EB/BP) suicide prevention, treatment, safety planning, and care coordination services.

The goals of the project include:

- Transform health and behavioral health systems infrastructure through the development of Zero Suicide advisory committees, suicide prevention policies and procedures, and the integration of EB/BP measures and mechanisms to monitor suicide care
- Enhance the collaboration of local and state-level partnerships to promote Zero Suicide and National Suicide Prevention Lifeline utilization
- Develop workforce training capacity to utilize EB/BP suicide prevention strategies
- Enhance care coordination strategies to increase the number of recovery and support linkages for at-risk adults to be referred and sustained in the right treatment at the right time
- Improve the coordination, sharing, and tracking of suicide-related indicators (suicide ideation, attempts, deaths, service utilization) via regional and state-level data surveillance systems

VI.B. Central Florida Pathways to Awareness, Support, and Services (C PASS) Project

The C PASS Project, a Now is the Time Project Aware Community Grant, is a partnership between UCF, USF, and the Florida Council for Community Mental Health (FCCMH). This project aims to coordinate, strengthen, and enhance system-wide efforts to expand Youth Mental Health First Aid (YMHFA) training, behavioral health outreach, and engagement initiatives to high risk regions in Central Florida. These areas include Citrus, Lake, Sumter, Orange, Seminole, and Volusia counties. YMHFA is an 8-hour education program for youth-serving adults that introduces participants to the unique risk factors and warning signs of mental health problems in adolescents and teaches individuals how to help an adolescent who is in crisis or experiencing a mental health challenge, including suicide.

Training and outreach efforts target frontline professionals who work with high-risk youth experiencing mental health and substance use issues and who encounter significant life stressors and adversities such as exposure to violence, abuse, neglect, poverty, and other forms of victimization.

The C PASS Project supports the training of those who interact with youth through their programs at the community level, including child protective investigators, community mental health partners, law enforcement, school personnel, faith-based leaders, and parents. Implementation of the C PASS Project aims to increase mental health literacy among youth-serving adults, policy-makers, and administrators of programs serving youth.

Major grant activities completed to date are summarized below:

- Trained 789 people in YMHFA; 41 trainings conducted
- Partnered and established YMHFA trainers within DCF, Lutheran Services Florida Health Systems, Marion County Children's Alliance, and the Community Based Care of Central Florida to train in multiple sectors across Central Florida. These sectors include child welfare, juvenile justice, behavioral health, education, law enforcement, and non-profit social services
- Certified eight individuals as YMHFA instructors
- Participated in 61 community events and disseminated more than 3,000 materials to promote the C PASS project, mental health awareness, and help seeking resources
- Identified and referred 640 youth to mental health services, crisis services, or other supportive services

VI.C. Florida Linking Individuals Needing Care (FL LINC) Project

The FL LINC Project, a Garret Lee Smith State/Tribal Suicide Prevention Program, is a partnership between the SOS, the FCCMH, UCF, USF, and three Managing Entities to develop innovative strategies to enhance services reaching at-risk priority populations.

Grant activities target the central, southeast, and northeast regions of the state. The goal of this grant is to increase the number of agencies, organizations, schools, and groups working together to implement suicide-prevention initiatives, in addition to improving care coordination services (follow-up care after a suicide or an attempt) to at-risk youth ages 10-24.

Major grant activities completed to date are summarized below:

- Worked with four behavioral health organizations to change policy and procedures, develop training plans, and implement a suicide care pathway in adolescent crisis stabilization units
- Partnered with three Managing Entities and four behavioral health organizations to implement the Zero Suicide initiative and pilot a Care Coordination Model of Care with youth ages 10 to 24 who are discharged from a crisis stabilization unit
- Promoted the LINC project and activities at local meetings and events as of October 2017, participated in 235 partnership meetings and disseminated 7,078 LINC marketing materials to promote suicide prevention awareness, education, and training
- Provided the following LINC trainings throughout the target regions:
 - Question, Persuade, Refer, and Treat, a suicide risk assessment and risk management training, online plus role-play to 46 clinicians
 - Question, Persuade, and Refer, a basic suicide prevention gatekeeper training to 1,905 individuals, including 195 emergency room staff
 - Suicide risk assessment and safety planning to 287 individuals
 - Care coordination principles to 139 individuals
 - Family training for 192 parents/family members of at-risk youth
 - Postvention training for 225 school personnel
- Distributed suicide prevention related resources:
 - 7,672 National Suicide Prevention Lifeline materials at events, meetings, and trainings
 - 3,597 USF Family Guides at events, meetings, and trainings
- Provided care coordination services to 145 at-risk youth transitioning out of acute care (services provided for up to 90 days post discharge)

VI.D. Advancing Wellness and Resiliency in Education (AWARE) Project

The Department of Education's AWARE project builds and expands the capacity of state educational agencies to increase awareness of mental health issues among school-aged youth. The AWARE project provides training for school personnel and other adults who interact with school-aged youth to detect and respond to mental health issues. Training focuses on how to connect children, youth, and families who may have behavioral health issues with appropriate services and supports.

The goals of the project are to increase:

- Youth access to mental health services and supports
- Implementation of evidence-based, culturally responsive mental health practices
- Awareness of mental health issues within Florida's youth, families, schools, and communities

At the state level, partners from multiple youth-serving systems and organizations serve on a State Management Team that provides oversight and leadership to systems that serve youth. At the local level, three Florida AWARE districts are developing and implementing a multi-tiered system of mental health supports that will serve as a model for future growth. Florida AWARE has 44 certified YMHFA trainers throughout the state that conducted 56 YMHFA trainings at no cost to participants.

VI.E. Noles CARE in Academics Project

Florida State University's (FSU) Noles CARE in Academics Project aims to enhance existing campus suicide prevention interventions by providing more accessible resources to academic departments across the FSU campus. Noles CARE train faculty, staff, and students within FSU's academic departments on local sources of support in the learning environment of students, and to encourage early detection of student distress and referrals for professional help. Noles CARE incorporate specific components into the training that addresses high-risk groups, such as members of the LGBTQ community, those identifying as racial or ethnic minority students, and student veterans.

The goals of the project include:

- Assess the needs of faculty, staff, and students within academic departments in carrying out suicide prevention efforts; the desire to implement suicide prevention training within academic departments; and the preferences of faculty, staff, and students for receiving suicide prevention training within academic departments
- Increase the percentage of faculty and staff who feel competent in handling students' mental health concerns
- Increase the percentage of student leaders who feel competent in intervening with distressed peers
- Increase the perceived efficacy and comfort of students with talking to faculty and peers about getting help with their mental health concerns
- Utilize a multidisciplinary leadership network to integrate suicide prevention training with other mental health initiatives on campus to increase student support for mental health within academic departments

VI.F. Healthy Knights 2020 Project

The UCF Healthy Knights 2020 initiative promotes a campus-wide environment supportive of the development and maintenance of a healthy body, mind, and spirit to decrease the occurrence of mental health issues that lead to suicide. Currently, the UCF campus has several options for students to receive health, mental health, and behavioral health services. However, following a pivotal on-campus suicide incident in 2013, the University recognized needed improvement in the area of suicide prevention.

The goals of the project include:

- Develop a crisis response plan that encompasses not only the UCF campus community, but the greater Orlando community, which includes linkage to the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline
- Increase awareness of suicide risk factors such as depression and substance use, the warning signs, prevention strategies, and resources specifically for high risk populations such as LGBTQ, students with co-occurring substance use and mental health issues, and student veterans through gatekeeper trainings
- Provide information on suicide prevention, identification, and reduction of risk factors, such as depression and substance abuse, promoting help seeking, and reducing the negative attitudes towards seeking care for mental and substance use disorders
- Create brochures and public service announcements specific to UCF and its community to help increase the awareness of suicide prevention
- Become a member of the Campus Program available through the Jed Foundation

VII. Council Recommendations

The SPCC, in partnership with key stakeholders, supports the implementation of national and state-level suicide prevention strategies, the dissemination of new suicide prevention research findings, the coordination of services across sectors and disciplines, and the provision of comprehensive suicide prevention initiatives. In support of these initiatives, the SPCC has three recommendations:

1. Expand the Capacity of the Statewide Office for Suicide Prevention

The SPCC extends its recommendation to expand the scope and ability of the SOSF. Expansion of the SOSF will enhance partnerships with local communities and key stakeholders and support the effective implementation of Florida's Suicide Prevention Plan. Expansion will also improve strategic planning efforts with local communities in order to reduce suicide at the local level. Accomplishing this requires additional resources, as well as additional staff. Expansion of the SOSF by at least one full-time Suicide Prevention Specialist, and program operations funding, would increase the office's ability to support and collaborate with the SPCC, local suicide prevention coalitions, and key stakeholders to better align suicide prevention efforts and reduce suicide in Florida.

2. Apply for the National Violent Death Reporting System

The National Violent Death Reporting System (NVDRS) is the only state-based reporting system that collects and categorizes data on violent deaths from state and local medical examiners, coroners, state and local law enforcement, toxicologists and vital statistics individual records into an anonymous database. The NVDRS covers all types of violent deaths, including homicides and suicides, in all settings and for all age groups. NVDRS may include data on mental health problems; recent problems with a job, finances, or relationships; physical health problems; and information about circumstances of death. With the ability to capture these types of information, Florida will be able to design and implement suicide prevention and intervention efforts.

DOH has held planning meetings to review the requirements involved with applying for a NVDRS Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration grant, and may apply in 2018.

Should such a grant be awarded to Florida, the SPCC recommends that the NVDRS be statutorily mandated and funded beyond the life of the grant award. One example of a state that included NVDRS into its statutory language is Ohio (please see Chapter 3701.01, Section 3701.93.)

3. Fund School Suicide Prevention Training

The SPCC recommends that the Legislature appropriate funding for implementation of s. 1012.583, F.S, which directs the Department of Education to develop a list of approved youth suicide awareness and prevention training materials that may be used for training in youth suicide awareness and prevention for instructional personnel. This legislation was passed in 2016 through HB7029 without funding for training. The funding could be used to support implementation of s. 1012.583, F.S., by providing train-the-trainer trainings and materials for youth suicide awareness and prevention trainings approved by the Florida Department of Education. This request supports goal one in the Florida Suicide Prevention Plan 2016-2020, which is to increase suicide prevention activities across multiple sectors and settings, and goal two, which is to increase public knowledge of the factors that offer protection from suicidal behaviors, and promote wellness and recovery.

VIII. Council Members or Designees

The SPCC consists of 27 voting members and one non-voting member. Thirteen members are selected by the SPCC and represent community organizations, four members are appointed by the Governor, and 10 members represent state officials. As of December 1, 2017, the following individuals are either members or designees of the Council.

| Organizational Seat | Name of Member or Designee |

IX. Resources

This section of the Report aims to raise awareness to the warning signs for suicide and provides hyperlinks to on-line resources. The following is a partial list of warning signs from the American Association of Suicidology¹¹:

- Increased substance (alcohol or drug) use
- No reason for living; no sense of purpose in life
- Anxiety, agitation, unable to sleep or sleeping all the time
- Feeling trapped – like there's no way out
- Hopelessness
- Withdrawal from friends, family, and society

¹¹ See, <http://www.suicidology.org/resources/warning-signs>, site accessed, September 24, 2015.

- Rage, uncontrolled anger, seeking revenge
- Acting reckless or engaging in risky activities, seemingly without thinking
- Dramatic mood changes

The National Suicide Prevention Lifeline provides 24/7, free, and confidential support for anyone in distress, as well as prevention and crisis resources. There are additional crisis lines that address the unique needs of certain populations. To get help for yourself or a loved one, the following resources are available:
