a. On-Call Assignment. An instance where management requires an employee to remain available to return to work during an off-duty period and the employee is required to be able to be reached by telephone or by an electronic signaling device in order to be available to return to work on short notice. An employee may be instructed verbally to be on-call for up to 24 consecutive hours; however, no employee shall be required to be on-call for more than 24 consecutive hours or one consecutive calendar day, unless such instructions are in writing. assigned work site or is able to render assistance without returning to the assigned work site, the employee is entitled only to the actual hours worked.

d. Subject to Call. A situation where an employee may be required to return to work on short notice if they can be contacted by appropriate management. The employee is not required to leave work where he or she may be reached by phone or by an electronic signaling device. All employees of the Department are "subject to call" and, as such, shall not receive a salary additive for such status.

e. Guaranteed Call Back Payment. If called back to the work site, an employee is guaranteed a minimum of two hours' payment. If the call back period is less than two hours, the employee will receive straight time payment for the guaranteed period not worked. The time not actually worked does not count toward actual hours worked for overtime purposes.

4-5. Procedures.

a. Approval.

(1) Program Directors and Regional Managing Directors are delegated the authority to approve positions for on-call as needed within their jurisdiction. This authority may be re-delegated utilizing the formal delegation process.

(2) Positions may be approved for on-call when it is necessary to carry out functions vital to the operations of the Department or for the immediate health and well being of clients or the general public.

(3) A request to designate a position to be approved for on-call must be in writing, with full justification and concurrence of the appropriate level supervisor. The request must be submitted to the Human Resources Classification and Compensation Center of Excellence for review before final approval by the delegated authority. A copy of the approval shall be maintained in the employee's official personnel file.

(4) Once approved by the appropriate delegated authority, all future incumbents of that position shall be required to be on-call. (b) An employee who is required to be on-call on a Saturday, Sunday or holiday as listed in Section 110.117, F.S., will be compensated by payment of a fee in an amount equal to one-fourth of the statewide minimum for the employee's paygrade or payband, or at the rate specified in paragraph (a) above, whichever is greater, for the period such employee is required to be available.

(2) If not covered by a collective bargaining unit agreement, the employee shall be compensated for on-call assignments in accordance with the same provisions as contained in the Master Contract between the State and the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, Florida Council 79 (AFSCME). (See paragraph b(1) above.)

(3) An employee who is on-call and is required to return to work during the on-call period shall continue to receive on-call pay during the period called back to work.
